

A webinar on sexual health in perimenopause and menopause, plus lived experience of early menopause

The Here For You team will be hosting this final webinar and we are delighted to be joined by Dr Claire Macauley, oncology doctor and 'sex science geek' from 'The Pleasure possibility.com'. Claire has an interest in working with those in perimenopausal or menopausal phase of life, whether naturally occurring or as a consequence of medical treatment. Claire delivers training to healthcare professionals on matters of sexuality and loves nothing more than speaking in public about all things sex.

We will also be joined by Michelle Gascoine, from Henpicked. Henpicked accredit organisations in becoming menopause friendly employers. Michelle will be talking about her own lived experience.

The webinar will be recorded and will be available on our website www.hereforyou.info. You do not need to register to access the recording.

There will be a brief Q&A at the end of the webinar, which will not be recorded.
